These nuns and this priest were forced out of Chihuahua, Mexico, by Gen. Francisco Villa, commander of the rebel force that captured the city. Their churches and convent looted. These photographs were taken by W. H. Darborough, the News-Times staff photographer, at El Paso the day the refugees reached safety on the soil of the United States.

TWO LAWS ENOUGH FOR THE PRESENT

Vice Pres. Marshall Says in His Opinion the Democrats Should Not Try to Undertake Further Legislation Now.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 26.—Vice Pres. Thomas R. Marshall, who arrived here Thursday for the holiday vacation, while expressing great pleasure over the enactment of the tariff and currency laws, said he did not believe the democratic party ought to undertake any further legislation at this time. He declared that there is no need for any anti-trust legislation at present in view of the enactment of the two important measures. "I am happy over the things that have been accomplished," said the vice president. "The democratic administration has done something that it was thought impossible to do—stood together and is still standing together and that is why we have the two important measures, the tariff law revision act and the currency law. "My personal opinion is that this is all the democratic party ought to undertake now. These two new laws are enough. Let's wait and see how they work out. I believe they will prove the solution of the country's problems. If they will accomplish this end, there will be no need for further important legislation. Let's watch the patient under the treatment. If these remedies do not work well, then we can change the treatment.

"There is no need for anti-trust legislation at this time, in view of the new tariff law and the new currency law. The trusts are now coming in and eating out of the hand of the attorney general and it is not necessary to enact new legislation on that subject now."

The vice president was accompanied by Mrs. Marshall and they are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Elder.

EMPLOY AMERICAN TRAINER

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—All doubt as to the selection of Al Copeland to train the Austrian athletes for the Olympic games of 1916 was dispelled yesterday by the receipt of a cablegram by James E. Sullivan, secretary-treasurer of the A. A. U., from the Austrian Olympic committee. The cable stated that the selection of Copeland had been ratified and he would be in entire charge of the conditioning of the Austrians for the Berlin meet.

CINCINNATI HOUSEWIVES BUY IN CARLOAD LOTS AND FAIRLY BUTCHER THEIR GROCERY BILL.

MRS. JOSEPH ELLMS, HELPING UNLOAD A CAR OF POTATOES.

It is just as easy to buy potatoes by the car-load as it is by the peck, and when you get them in car-load lots the price of a peck isn't much more than what the grocery man charges you for a small measure of them," said Mrs. Joseph Ellms, president of the Cincinnati housewives' co-operative league. She leads about 100 other women in reducing the high cost of living in that many families.

This little band of women purchase potatoes, apples, cabbage, sweet potatoes, melons and flour in car-load lots direct from producers and cut out the middleman. Eggs, butter, lard, coffee and tea and other necessities come in case lots. Their credit is good and producers are anxious to supply their wants. The accompanying illustration was made several days ago when a car of potatoes arrived in Cincinnati. The representatives of the league are always on hand on these occasions and supervise the unloading. They even try their own hand at the work. The potatoes were retailing at $1.35 per bushel; the women in the league got theirs for 80 cents per bushel.

DESERTED MORE THAN 20 WOMEN

Career of Rev. Albert Dahlstrom, Now in Jail at Tacoma, Wash., is Being Investigated by Government.

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 26.—The career of Rev. Albert Dahlstrom, who is in jail in Tacoma on a white slavery charge, is being investigated by Special Agent William R. Bryon of the department of justice, who says the self-styled "saint" has been under scrutiny since last May. According to Bryon, Dahlstrom has married and deserted probably a score of women in various parts of the United States. The government agents say that in 1899, while legally married to one woman in Chicago, Dahlstrom bigamously married another in St. Paul, by which his first child was born. Other supposed wives of Dahlstrom discovered by the government include Bertha Footmyer of Denver, who is said to have been deserted after three months; two sisters, Effie and Lillie Sandberg of Minneapolis, neither of whom knew that the other was the wife of the "saint"; Ida Rasby of Eggleston, Minn., who became demented when her children were given away to a family in Chicago; Jennie Summerson, Chicago; Hilma Carlson, Denver, who went to Chicago with Dahlstrom, and Martha Peterson, Rockford, Ill., who bore Dahlstrom three children and who is said to have accompanied him to this state, later returning to her home. Dahlstrom established a colony of his believers at Granite Falls, Wash. Just as the authorities were about to arrest him he disappeared and recently he was discovered living on a farm at Mountain View with two sisters, Edna and Hilma England, whose parents live near Mountain View. One of the England girls will be the chief witness against him at his trial in Tacoma.

The government is gathering information concerning his numerous wives according to Bryon, and their testimony will be used against him if necessary. Dahlstrom is about 40 years old, a native of Sweden and speaks English with difficulty. His first difficulty with the authorities took place in Chicago in 1906 when one of his many books dealing with the subject of motherhood was excluded from the mails.

SKIDDING AUTOMOBILE CAUSES WOMAN'S DEATH

Is Knocked Into Water in Abandoned Quarry and May Have Drowned.

KOKOMO, Ind., Dec. 26.—Miss Mary Morrison, about 70 years old, was struck by a skidding automobile here late Wednesday, thrown into the water in abandoned quarry and killed. Whether she had died from the injuries received when hit by the machine or had drowned, the coroner had not decided Thursday night.

Edward Hudson, a tester for an automobile company, was driving the machine. The machine plunged through the wire fence surrounding the quarry and into the water. Hudson was carried to the bottom and after a desperate struggle 25 feet under water, succeeded in freeing himself. He was rescued.

Miss Morrison, when she met death, was making Christmas calls, delivering presents to her friends here. Her home is in Russiaville. Her body was recovered from the quarry by city firemen.

PRESIDENT IS CHARGED DOUBLE FOR STAMP

Postmistress at Pass Christian Gets Excited and Forgets to Make Change When Chief Executive Buys Stickers.

PASS CHRISTIAN, Miss., Dec. 26.—Pres. Wilson, by a mid-afternoon visit to the town postoffice, made Christmas day a memorable one in the history of this quiet seaside city. Only a few natives had caught a glimpse of the president and his family, when, in the cold gray dawn, they motored to a cottage a mile away from the tiny railroad station. The peace and quiet of the holiday afternoon was broken suddenly when word spread everywhere that the president was out walking.

Observing holiday hours, the postoffice was closed, but some one set off immediately to the home of Mrs. Annette Simpson, the postmistress, to inform her that the president was waiting. She came quickly, followed by two little daughters, one of them attired for the occasion in a mortarboard hat of the collegiate type.

"Merry Christmas, I did not expect you," said Mrs. Simpson. "Oh, I didn't think there would be anyone over here, but I thought I'd try," said the president. "It's very kind of you to come over."

The president bought two twenty-five cent books of stamps, and in her confusion, the postmistress forgot to give him fifty cents change. This, however, will be dispatched to him Friday.

"I wish he had said something about letting me have three years more," Mrs. Simpson, who is a candidate for re-appointment, later told her friends. "They're fighting me hard for the place."

As the president stood at the door of the postoffice several little children walked shyly up to him and grasped his hand.

POLICE CASES ARE HEARD

The wheels of justice did not stop grinding Thursday despite it being Christmas day. A short session was held in police court and three cases of "drunks" were disposed of. Nels Norbad, John Biffens and Mike Lanigan were fined one dollar and costs. The fine was suspended in the case of the latter two.
